VETERINARIES END ANNUAL MEETING

Much of Interest to Public in Proceedings of Hudson Valley Experts in Animal Treatment.

Sixteen veterinarians held a most interesting meting at the supervisor's room at the court house, in this city, Wednesday afternoon, being in session from 2 until 5 o'clock, it being the annual meeting of the Hudson Valley Veterinary Society, adjourned from November last, which was followed immediately by the regular quarterly meeting. A greater part of the time was taken up in "talking shop."

The annual meeting was called to order by Dr. L. L. Parker of Catskill, vice-president, as Dr J. M. Luft, of Hudson, the president, was absent. W. H. Kelly of Albany, secretary and treasurer, read the minutes of the August meeting, which were adopted, and the financial report for 1918, showing balance on hand November, 1917, $123.72; disbursements, $112.55, leaving a balance, November, 1918, $11.17. The report was referred to a finance committee, Drs. Faust, Andrews and Wile.

Secretary Kelly reported four members in arrears for three years and after the matter had been reported to a board of censors, the members selected for the purpose, being Drs Faust, Roig Comstock, Knapp and Kehr, they were dropped from the membership roll on the report of the censors.

Nominations for officers were next in order and L. L. Parker, Catskill, was nominated for president, J. W. Andrews, Mt. Kisco, vice-president; William Henry Kelly, secretary and treasurer; D. B. Comstock, Albany; Wright J. Smith, Kingston; Thomas F. O'Dea, Saugerties; George Eighmey, North Chatham; C. A. Kehr, La Grangeville, board of censors. They were all unanimously elected.

The constitution and by-laws were changed by a unanimous vote, making the quarterly meeting dates the second Wednesday in February, May, August and November, instead of on the first Monday in those months, as the New York district society meets on the first Mondays and members of the Hudson Valley Society desire at times to attend the New York meetings and vice versa.

The annual meeting then adjourned, subject to the call of the chair who then called the members to the February meeting, President Parker presiding. Those present were: State Veterinarian J. G. Wills, Albany; F. W. Andrews, Mt. Kisco; Wright J. Smith, Kingston; Otto Faust, Poughkeepsie; G. A. Knapp, Millbrook; H. P. Gray, Millbrook; C. A. Kehr, La Grangeville; D. B. Comstock, Albany; Thomas F. O'Dea, Saugerties; Thomas Sheldon Rhinebeck; George Eighmey, North Chatham; L. L. Parker, Catskill; C. A. Roig, Poughkeepsie; Dean W. Horace Hoskins, New York city; J. W. Fink, Newburgh; J. A. Huhne, Kingston.

At the close of the meeting it was voted to hold the May quarterly meeting at Catskill.

Secretary Kelly reported that there had been introduced in the state legislature what is known as the Donnelly bill to amend the veterinarian law in behalf of new graduates, there being a provision that a man 21 years of age and of good moral character, who for fifteen years prior to 1917, acted as assistant to reputable veterinarians, and duly endorsed by two licensed veterinarians, could on the payment of $10 secure a license to practice. Dr. Kelly was of the opinion that the bill should be opposed by the society and the legislators should be asked to oppose the passage. Dean Hoskins, who was asked if he knew of the proposed act, said, "it was a one man bill," framed to aid a Brooklyn man.

An open discussion then followed on reports made by various members as to peculiar cases had since the last meeting, and suggestions made as to treatment, and similar cases mentioned, told of by some of the other doctors.

Dr Otto Faust of Poughkeepsie told of having been called a few months ago to treat the first case of rabies that he had ever treated in that city. The dog died and an autopsy showed rabies. The cause was a rat bite. He had three others taken, and these dogs had each been bitten in fights by other dogs. Dr. Fink stated he had about that time treated dogs for rabies. Dr. Faust also told of a malformed calf, with no tail or hind legs, but head and front part all right. He spoke of the value of flexible copper wire saw used by him and others in sawing off legs of calves when necessity required.

The Knapp, Andrews, O'Dea, Comstock, Wills, Roig, Kehr, Kelly and Fink all reported peculiar cases that had come to their attention in treatment of cows, horses, cats and dogs, and discussions as to the proper treatment had. Dr. Comstock told of a valuable horse that he had been treating for a peculiarly case of old-fashioned spavin heel. Dr. Kehr of a horse that sweat continually, while not working and in the stable and did not sweat while working and Dr. Roig reported the birth of a calf as big as a rabbit.

Dean Hoskins, of the Veterinary College, New York University, an honorary member of the society, made a number of suggestions as to treatment in cases reported. He also reviewed the milk question that has been before the public for some time. He said he wondered why the Conservation men were watching legislation on the milk question. There were from 12 to 15 bills pertaining to the milk question introduced involving the interest of producers as well as the consumers. They involve the producers in a serious way. Eighty per cent. of distributed milk is confined to two companies who dictate to the other 20 per cent. One has a capital of over twenty-three million dollars in common stock and paid 15 per cent interest on the common stock and 6 per cent on the preferred stock of $7,000,000. Seventy per cent of one company stock is water and 60 per cent of the other company. He spoke of the decrease of the use of milk. The most serious thing the people of New York is meeting with is the forcing the children to do without milk in their growing age. Twenty-three per cent of the children of New York city are underfed.

The production of milk has not been profitable to farmers for years. The combination of the Dairymen's League and the distributors is not the solution of the trouble. These legislative bills or measures are nostrums. The remedy lies in better sanitary conditions on the dairies and farms. The solution is in the hands of the veterinarians—in their profession. It is time there were committees to guide the legislators; to set them right. The disturbance of the world is a land and food proposition. Forty million people of our land are underfed today. Veterinarians are performing a public service daily. They should have representatives to see that legislation that are nostrums are not passed. The spirit of unrest comes from underfed people. The 23 per cent of underfed children in New York city will nearly all become a burden on the public. He suggested laws placing the state in farming zones under a veterinary police control, and that there be an animal engineer over each zone to see that the cattle are properly cared for, diseases eliminated and to instruct the farmer as to the proper food for each particular kind of cows. There should be a community farm on which cattle can be placed and watched while in quarantine for tuberculine symptoms and until nature of disease or ailment is decided. Dean Hoskins also favored a community abattoir for the benefit of farmers and dairymen, who now bury their cows, etc., instead of getting the benefit that would accrue from the use of an abattoir. Co-operation and correlation is needed. He hoped to live long enough to see some one in congress to guide the representatives there to this vital question. Dean Hoskins also said the veterinarians should make it a business to instruct the farmer to get rid of cows that are small producers of milk, which they are feeding at high cost without any paying results.

A discussion followed Dean Hoskins's address and the consensus of opinion that the state and federal authorities are not giving the local veterinarians a fair deal in sending men to test herds that have been in charge of the local men for long periods with satisfactory results to the owners, the state and federal men doing the inspecting free. The accredited herd question was very fully discussed by Drs. Comstock, Kelly, Parker and others. Dr. Comstock said there is no state law saying "what is milk." The standardization of milk is a municipal matter, being different in places as to percentage of butter fat, some more, some less. If a dairyman with Guernseys or Jerseys has 6 per cent butter fat milk and takes two or three and a half per cent out, and still has better milk than the black and white cows give, he is liable to arrest for adulteration of the milk. He favored in educating the farmer. Take farming and dairy papers and read them and keep posted on the latest and best things and tell the farmer who has no time to read.

Thanks were voted to Dean Hoskins for his entertaining address and to Dr. Wright J. Smith of this city for providing of the meeting place.

London, Feb. 6—With all the subways and the London district railways tied up by the strike, the railroad engineers are scheduled to go out today paralyzing traffic entirely.

Despite the government's edict under the Defense of the Realm Act, forbidding the electrical workers to strike, there is every indication that the men will carry their threat into effect and plunge the city into darkness tonight.

Steps have been taken by the government to provide both electrical workers and railroad engineers if the men go out.

Drastic measures will be taken if necessary, it was announced. The government released 250,000 lorries this morning to carry persons to work.

VOGT ULSTER'S YOUNGEST SOLDIER

Enlisted Before He Was 15 Years of Age and Has Served Nearly Eight Months in the Artillery.

Ulster county's youngest soldier is Fred Vogt of this city, son of William Vogt, a former member of the city police force. Young Vogt enlisted June 12, 1918, giving his age as 18 and succeeding in making the recruiting officers believe him. He spent his 15th birthday in camp and the only reason he isn't in France today is that the war ended before his regiment was ordered overseas. The regiment was at Camp McClellan in daily expectation of orders to leave for a port of embarkation, when the armistice was signed and demobilization began.

Vogt was first assigned to the Supply Company of the 35th Field Artillery and later was transferred to the Headquarters Company of the same regiment and made a member of the regimental band. He is now in Camp Upton, awaiting his discharge, which he expects to receive this week. Like most of the young men who were anxious to enlist, he was disappointed when he found he could not go immediately to France and begin to fight. Not being a peace soldier, he now writes that he will be glad to get back home. No mention of his enlistment was published at the time for the reason that he was "keeping the thing dark" because he did not want to be discharged on account of being under age. He is very proud of the artillery and sends home the following from Trench and Camp in praise of the men with the big guns:

The Ninth and Twelfth Field Artillery Brigades are now in process of demobilization in accordance with telegraphic instruction from Adjutant General Harris in Washington. The order came Saturday morning and by Monday morning the machinery of demobilization had gotten under way, and already a number of the men have departed for their homes. The order specifies that only those shall be discharged who had not enlisted prior to April 2, 1917, or who were members of the Regular army. Those not discharged under this order and those desiring to re-enlist, will be assigned to other organizations in camp.

The demobilization order affects approximately 10,000 officers and men in this camp and the entire Ninth and Twelfth Divisions at Camps Sheridan and Devens, respectively, of which the two brigades here are a part.

No finer soldiers exists in the army than the men of these two brigades. And it is pertinent to say that they hold a record not enjoyed by any soldiers who ever resided and trained here, and that is that their preparation for actual overseas duty was accomplished in the most scientifically minimum time. Within three months after arriving here in troops of raw recruits they were drilled, dressed and ready to entrain for the gang plank which would put them in actual touch with the Kaiser's devices of death. Never were men so accurately and masterfully trained, and never did men leap with such eagerness to what they considered a privilege as much as a duty. If there have been cowards among them they were so few that they were almost negligible. If there have been men unsentimentally among them in their relations to each other and to officers and civilians no inkling of such men have reached Trench and Camp. With others who have preceded them from here, and those whom they have behind, they are typical 100 per cent Americans.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS MUST BE HAD

Is View of Wilson and Will Return to Paris After Reaching Here In Two Weeks and Consulting People.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 6.—President Wilson will be on his way back to Paris one month of the time he comes back to America, about February 24, unless an effective league of nations is soundly established in the meantime.

This was learned from an authoritative source today, together with more details of his probable plans while in America. Administration officials let it be understood, however that the president's future course is entirely centered in what he considers of topmost importance in world legislation just now, the league of nations.

Should the president land in New York on February 24, as is now contemplated, he will very probably deliver there the first of a series of addresses he is to make in different parts of the country, taking the people into his confidence and explaining for the first time his own interpretation of the peace terms, and what may be expected of the peace conference. Immediately after delivering this address he will return to Washington and very likely address a joint session of the retiring congress and make a detailed report of his negotiations with representatives of the great powers.

Health Improvement in Brazil.

The famous saying "Brazil is a vast hospital" is in a fair way to being outlawed. Yellow fever is stamped out and the government has made an immense appropriation for supplying quinine to the entire community. To these achievements must be added the labors of the Oswaldo Cruz Institute in the realms of scientific prevention of communicable diseases of all kinds. —Brazil-Medico.

METTACAHONTS.

Mettacahonts, Feb 6.—Mr. and Mrs Simeon Osterhoudt very pleasantly entertained on Friday evening last for dinner Mr. and Mrs Stanley Kelder and sons, Robert and Franklyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Osterhoudt and daughter, Olive. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed

John J. Wood has purchased of Jesse Osterhoudt the house and land known as the Permelia Beesemer estate and plans on moving from his present location next fall to take possession of his new home

Mrs Joe Hendrickson entertained friends on Sunday.

Mrs. Russell Miller spent some time Tuesday with Miss Delilah Rider, whose condition is improved.

Mrs. Bertha Baker visited her sister, Miss Addie Anderson, at Kingston on Saturday, who is slowly recovering from an attack of appendicitis.

Mrs. Ralph Emory and little son, Merritt, have both been ill during last week, but are now on the gain.

The Ladies' Aid will give their entertainment the latter part of this month. The date will appear in an early issue of The Freeman.

James Wood and William Baker are drawing Mr. Wood's stove wood from Millhook this week, which he had sawed by gasoline engine and saw last week.

The chief topic of conversation around home firesides and village stores these days is the exceptionally fine winter we are having and the different ideas as to its continuation. The main question is, will there be more sleighing and ice? Some hold this to be the nicest winter in 30 years, when they claim we had another similar to this. We are surely all enjoying this winter, which seems quite a change from the severe winters we have had of late years.

Jesse Osterhoudt, John Vandemark and C. D. Osterhoudt were all county seat visitors on Tuesday.

Eugene Baker has sold his oxen to parties from Woodstock. Mr. Baker had a fine pair of oxen.

Eli Osterhoudt was in Kerhonkson on Monday afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Osterhoudt and daughter, Lillian, Mr. and Mrs Ben E Burger and sons, Joe and Dan, and Miss Lena Dick were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Osterhoudt last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Fred Hendrickson and daughter, Lulu, and Miss Pearl Enderly spent one Sunday recently with their sister, Mrs. Floyd Chrisey.

Eugene Baker and Oliver Baker were in Ellenville last Friday.

Miss Dora Quick of Leibhardt was a caller in town on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Bell have been entertaining relatives from out of town the past week.

Mr. and Mrs Jesse Osterhoudt will entertain a number of friends for dinner one evening this week

Roswell Osterhoudt was one of town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Floyd Chrisey has received a letter this week from her brother, Preston Enderly, who is at Coblenz, Germany Private Enderly states he is enjoying good health and hopes soon to be home.

There will be preaching service in the school house on Sunday, Feb. 8.

Mrs David Depuy spent Friday with Mrs George Kelder.

Mr. and Mrs Charles D. Osterhoudt and son, Jansen, spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the home of their parents, Mr and Mrs. Jacob Markle, and family.

Mrs Mary Baker of Accord is spending a few days with her father, David Osterhoudt, and also Mr. and Mrs. D Baker.

WEST SAUGERTIES.

West Saugerties, Feb 6.—The P. N. S. had a quilting bee at Mrs. Nellie Snyder's last week on Thursday and Friday. They put the beauty touches on a bed spread for Mrs. George Lowther of Kingston.

Mrs. Henry Bach sold her organ to Mrs. George Teetsel.

Mrs. Clarence Snyder of Platte Clove was in this place last Friday to see her mother, Mrs. Charles E Hommel.

Fred Hommel's home seems to be a favorite place to be having parties. Another one gathered there one night last week, composed of people from Saugerties as well as here.

The lumber camp in Tannersville was burned last week, putting the carpenters working for Mr. Kaplan out of work until lumber can be gotten from somewhere else.

Henry Lamouree of Blue Mountain and Millard Carn of this place spent Sunday in Catskill.

Fred Cole and wife of Tannersville passed through this place on Monday.

Frank Smith of Brooklyn, who occupied Mrs. Joshua Snyder's house, died on Tuesday morning. He has been ill since he has been here. The body was prepared for burial by Undertaker Keenan of Saugerties and will be taken to New York by his wife and sister.

Frank Bradley and wife of Woodstock are spending the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradley.

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Arthur LeFever of Newburgh has returned to her home, having spent a few days the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Addis.

Russell Van Etten, who has been quite ill, is able to be out again.

Mrs. I. E. Slater was called to the home of her son, T. Davis of Connecticut on Tuesday, as she is seriously ill.

The many friends of William Van Etten were saddened to hear of his death at his late home on January 26. He had been ill about two weeks of pneumonia. Funeral was held at his home on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and one child, one sister and five brothers and father and mother, and a wide circle of friends. He always had a kind word to all who knew him. We can not always know and see why God allows such heavy trials as this to come into our lives to blight them, but sometime we shall understand.

Mrs. Samuel Churchwell spent a few days the past week at the home of her parents at High Falls.

MANY DEAD HERE

Who Are Not in Cemetery, Says Evangelist Pugsley.

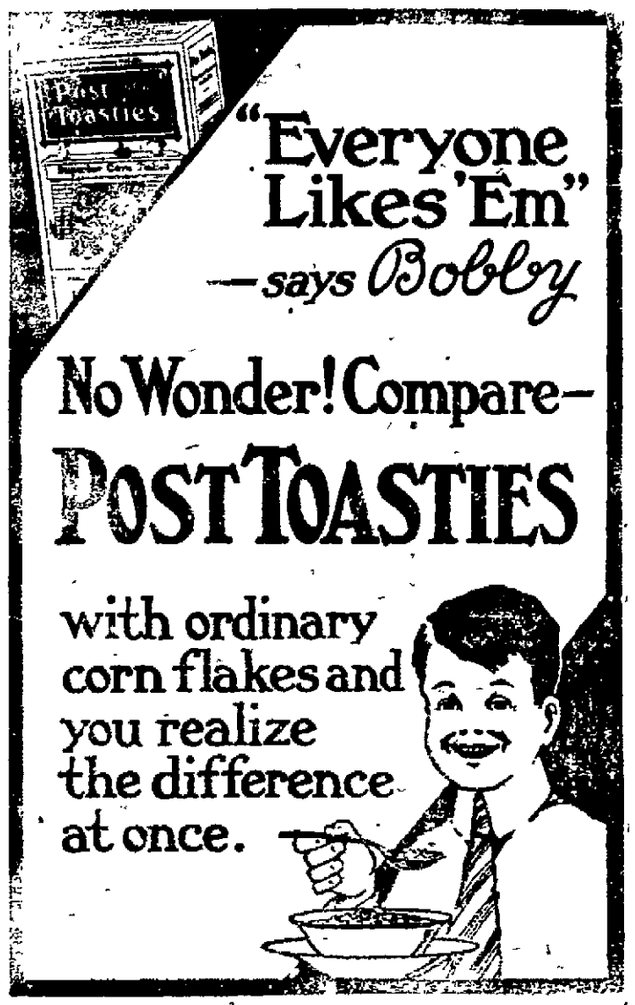

Evangelist Pugsley spoke on Locked Doors" last night and all listened intently to the discourse. He read the 11th chapter of John

Mr Pugsley said among other things that 'there are many dead people in Kingston who are not in the cemetery All who are without Christ are dead in their sins and Jesus Christ died that He might raise all who are dead from their sins and bring them into the relationship of sons of God with Jesus Christ. All are sons of Adam but are not sons of God until Jesus Christ comes into the life and reinstates God into the life. The righteousness of God was withdrawn from Adam and Eve when they were turned out of the Garden of Eden and God has been seeking to have the pleasure of entering and taking possession of the life and to reign therein. He has done and is doing everything in His power to persuade all to allow Him to take possession of the soul and govern the life. God is pleading through every means at His command May we do all we can to assist Christ in raising the dead and in releasing them from some binding habit which bound them hand and foot This is our work and may we all do our part Pizarro's Famous Voyage.

December 28 is the anniversary of the fifth start of Pizarro, in 1530, from Panama for Peru. The daring voyager refused to give up his dream of finding gold in the Andean kingdom. The success of his enterprise from a money standpoint astounded the world and resulted in the conquest of the Incas.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears Alderman Mann's Theatre Resolution Discussed and Opinion Expressed that it will be Vetoed and Why.

"Well they certainly must have had a glorious time up at the common council session Tuesday" remarked the customer looking up from The Freeman he was reading.

"I should snicker" agreed the busy barber

"What do you think about this theatre proposition anyway?" asked the customer

"It would seem to me" replied the barber" that the council ought to know what they were doing before they took any action in the matter"

"But they did take action" interrupted the customer "they adopted Alderman Mann's resolution fixing the fees"

"I know they did' said the barber 'but to my mind Mayor Canfield will veto the resolution'

'Why, because he vetoed Alderman Connelly's ordinance?" asked the customer

'If I remember right replied the barber "the mayor gave as his reasons that the Connelly ordinance was not drawn properly, and you should not forget that at the present time there is a city ordinance fixing the fee at $25 a year.

"What has that got to do with the question?" retorted the customer

"You can't convince me' replied the barber "that a resolution can over-ride an ordinance and what Alderman Mann offered was a resolution and made no attempt to rescind the present theatre ordinance or even amend it"

'Huh" said the customer

If the common council had amended the present ordinance" continued the barber "it might have proven legal, but it would surprise me very much if the Mann resolution was not vetoed"

GET IN OR GET OUT.

The war is supposed to be over, yet we are still at war in the Archangel section of northern Russia, where Americans appear to be fighting with varying fortune and under great disadvantages. This is the fact of immediate importance, and in comparison it is small consequence whether we do or do not fully understand the aims of the Bolsheviki. Presumably the Washington government is definitely informed and has the matter properly in hand, although at times there has seemed reason to fear that the north Russian situation has failed of the attention it deserves in consequence of the absorbing consideration of the big questions before the Peace Conference.

Apart from the watchful attitude in Washington, which we may take for granted, the only noticeable active interest in the Russian situation is that of our apologists for the Bolsheviki. They have organized a society whose aim is to "tell the truth about Russia," and to give the Bolsheviki a thick coat of whitewash seems to be their idea of telling the truth in this connection. When asked about their superior sources of information they are able merely to point to published articles by persons who have visited Russia and who have socialistic theories to expound this product being regarded as more authoritative than the more recent businesslike statements of our consuls and the non-partisan accounts of the news agencies. It is true enough that we know too little about Russia owing to the dark curtain drawn around that afflicted country by its rulers, but all that we do know is vastly to the discredit of the Bolsheviki. Our government agents sent to get the facts, our consuls and our news agencies all agree that the Bolsheviki, instead of being the advance guard of the millennium as their confiding apologists seem to imagine, are rather a toboggan-sliding host determined to plunge headlong into aboriginal savagery.

But whether it be possible to whitewash the Bolsheviki or not, we know that they are fighting American soldiers in northern Russia, that our troops and their native and British allies are greatly outnumbered, and that an unwelcome tragedy is well within the bounds of possibility unless the allied battalions in the Archangel neighborhood are speedily reinforced. Why our soldiers are there at all does not appear to be as clear as it might be, but since they are there and are reported to be laboring at a disadvantage they should be promptly reinforced or be withdrawn. It would seem to be imperative to do one of two things in this Russian connection: We must get into that country or get out.

PATRIOTS OR PATRIOTEERS?

We hear little nowadays about profiteers and profiteering. Instead, we are surfeited with praise and smothered under bouquets thrown to various persons and classes who, it is claimed, won the war by working at higher wages than they ever received before while the fighting men were getting a trifle more than a dollar a day. The Emergency Fleet News, published by the U. S. Shipping Board, prints a cartoon showing Columbia saying to the ship builder, "Your devotion made this possible," while she gazes on prostrate Militarism. The farmers, too, have had their bouquets and have been told how they saved the world, as they did—at so much per. Even now the Government is struggling with the problem of how to keep its contract to pay $2.26 a bushel for wheat when the crop promises to exceed the demand, while wheat growers are planning to greatly increase the acreage next spring and grow more grain than the world needs, because Government guarantee will make it profitable. Abroad similar conditions exist. A London dispatch says:

> The present troubles were precipitated by the war and by the price of commodities, plus the Government's policy from the outset of the war of appealing to the cupidity instead of to the patriotism of the workers. Men were asked to fight and die for the country at a shilling a day, but the workers at home, possessing votes, were bribed with colossal wages, far exceeding the rise in the cost of living * * * * * No settled conditions are to be looked for, however, until our domestic politics is purged. Profligate expenditure on the one hand and deteriorating methods of granting honors on the other have been marked features of twelve years of radical administration.

The difference seems to be that here while the Government's real appeal was to cupidity its outward appeal only was to patriotism, giving rise to a feeling of smug self-satisfaction in the minds of many who were exceedingly well paid for their "patriotic" efforts. We wonder what the $1.10 a day boys from the battlefields and camps are going to think of the badge-bedizened $8 to $30 a day patrioteers at home when they see and realize all these facts and conditions.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Poverty," said Uncle Eben, "ain' no disgrace, 'ceptin' when a man would rather put up wif it dan work."—Washington Star.

Kiddee—"You said you would met me and didn't." Kidder—"Why, don't you know I'm observing a meatless day?"—Judge.

The New Maid—"In my last place I always took things fairly easy." The Cook—"Ye won't do that here. They keep everything locked up."—Boston Transcript.

"We've been very cold this winter, yet we had steam heat and eradicators all over the house." "Then, my dear madam, I don't wonder your comfort was wiped out."—Baltimore American.

"Marriage is a lottery," quoted the ostentatious cynic. "Well," replied Mr. Meekton, "I guess Henrietta is right. She is constantly saying I never had any business to gamble."—Washington Star.

Over His Head.

The Bantams were talking over a line of trenches from one of the guard's battalions during a very long spell of weather. As the guards were coming out one of the Bantams asked a big guardsman:

"How are the trenches—comfortable?"

"Yes," replied the six-footer. "Very cushy, but full of water."

"How deep?" inquired the four footer, anxiously.

"Oh, about up to here!" said the guardsman, pointing to some clay on the breast of his tunic.

"Then heaven help my cap badge!"—London Tid Bits.

Wanted a Steady Job.

George Schreiner of Lamar tells this one. A man struck a farmer for a steady job. The farmer said very well, he'd sure give him one, all right. They worked all the next day, and kept at it until 12 o'clock the next night. Then the farmer said he guessed they'd knock off and go to bed. At two o'clock he called his hand and told him to get up and they'd go back to work. The hand came downstairs carrying his grip. The farmer saw it and said: "What's the matter? Aint going to leave, are you?" "Yep," said the hand, "I' gonna quit. You promised you'd give me a steady job, and here you've let me lose two hours."—Kansas City Times.

Wise Little Girl.

"Now, children," said the teacher, "we will begin our zoology lesson. Can any little girl tell me, do animals love us."

"Yes, ma'am," answered the class.

"Now can any child tell me which animal has the greatest natural fondness for man?"

There was a pause when one small girl held up her hand.

"Well, Nellie, what is it?" asked the teacher.

"Woman," was the prompt answer.—Tit Bits.

Satisfied.

A scouting airman returned one day with a bit of valuable information about the enemy, which no one believed. He therefore flew back again and returned with his machine riddled with bullets.

"Yet, it's right," he reported: "It is the Nth regiment. You're such a lot of unbelieving beggars that I had to make sure. I just landed in a field and had a look at the number on their tunics. Had rather a job starting again, but they're rotten shots."—Exchange.

13 Dollars—13 Cents

When Swift & Company paid, say,—13 dollars per hundredweight for live beef cattle last year, their profit was only 13 cents! In other words, if we had paid $13.13, we would have made no profit.

Or, if we had received a quarter of a cent per pound less for dressed beef we would have made no profit.

It is doubtful whether any other business is run on so close a margin of profit.

This is bringing the producer and the consumer pretty close together—which should be the object of any industry turning raw material into a useful form.

This remarkable showing is due to enormous volume, perfected facilities (packing plants strategically located, branch houses, refrigerator cars, etc.), and an army of men and women chosen and trained to do their special work.

This, and many other points of interest, are found in the Swift & Company Year Book for 1919, just published which is brought out for the public as well as for the 25,000 Swift & Company shareholders.

The Year Book also represents the packer's side of the Federal Trade Commission investigation, upon which Congress is asked to base action against the industry.

Many who have never heard the packer's side are sending for the Year Book.

Would you like one? Merely mail your name and address to the Chicago office and the book will come to you.

POLICE PRESENT RING TO SNYDER

Officer Frank H. Snyder, Who Rounded Out a Quarter Century of Active Service Wednesday, Remembered by Fellow Members.

Officer Frank H. Snyder on Wednesday rounded out a quarter century active service as a member of Kingston's police department, and that evening his fellow members of the department presented him with a handsome gold signet ring as a slight token of the high esteem in which he is held.

The presentation came as a complete surprise to Officer Snyder, and he briefly and feelingly responded to Sergeant Phinney, who presented the ring in behalf of the members of the department.

Sergeant Phinney in presenting the ring called attention to the fine record that Officer Snyder had made since the day twenty-five years ago when he was appointed a member of the police force. Many changes have taken place in the department since the force was organized.

"We not only congratulate you on your years of service," said Sergeant Phinney, "but also on your splendid record which you have gained through all these years of service. Yours is a record of unblemished character, which we all might take as a model, a record of loyalty to duty which we cherish and applaud."

The evening's program was brought to a close with dancing, music being furnished by Schoentag's jazz orchestra.

ULSTER TO HAVE BEEKEEPERS' ASS'N

Temporary Officers Elected—State College Specialist Discusses Placing Industry On a Business Basis.

The beekeepers meeting held in the Court House Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the Ulster County Farm Bureau Association resulted in the election of temporary officers for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Ulster county beekeepers in the near future and organizing a permanent association of this kind in this county. The main benefits to be derived from organization were explained to be in the fixing and stability of selling prices and the collective purchasing of supplies for beekeepers in large quantities for distribution among the honey producers of Ulster county as is done through the Ulster County Farm Bureau along other agricultural lines of food production at a cheaper cost to the producer. The temporary officers elected to make arrangements for the future meeting and organization of this association were as follows: president, M. J. Whiston of this city and Manager of the Snyder Bee and Honey Company on Linderman avenue; vice-president, C. S. Rowe of Ulster Park; secretary and treasurer, John Herring of Ulster Park. The new president and Manager Cochrane of the Farm Bureau will appoint a committee of two to meet with them for the purpose of drawing up the necessary by laws for the new organization. Attention was also brought to the large number present of the short intensive course in commercial beekeeping to be given during the week of February 24 to March 1st, inclusive, at the State college at Ithaca. It is a desire of Manager Cochrane to have a large delegation of beekeepers from Ulster county at these lectures at Cornell University.

W. H. Rea, a bee specialist from the state college, was present and discussed the bee problem with the enthusiastic listeners covering it in every detail possible. This was the first appearance of a bee specialist in Ulster county but the project of organization was started last year and at present there are about 23 counties with a county beekeepers' association and their effectiveness has been evident. The New York State Beekeepers Association was organized 48 years ago and it was this body that brought about the elimination of the adulterated honey from the market.

Aside from the topic of organization the subject of the behavior of the honey bee was discussed by Mr. Rea. The extension work now in hand is not for the purpose of encouraging everybody to keep bees but rather to assist those already in the business toward the end that beekeeping may be made a real business proposition. In the past fifteen years 90 per cent of the small beekeepers have gone out of business. The honey bee has a recognized economic value in the pollenation of fruit bloom and the bloom of certain farm crops, clover and buckwheat for example. In this respect the keeping of honey bees in the fruit growing and buckwheat regions is worth millions of dollars annually to the state of New York. The value of the honey bee in the pollenation of bloom is worth many times that of the honey produced. New York state as present is the second state in line for the honors of producing the largest amount of honey, but is the banner state in the U. S. for the raising of buckwheat. The interest in the value of the bee has got to be increased if this is to remain true if this state as the growth and crop of buckwheat is dependent upon the pollen which is only carried by the bee. This is not only true with buckwheat but with all other grains from which the honey bee gets nectar a waste product, which should not be wasted. It was claimed by Mr. Rea that a honey bee cannot puncture the skin of a fruit but that the cousin of the bee and known as the wasp was responsible for this damage to the fruit crops. On the contrary he asserted that bees should be kept in orchard areas for the betterment of fruit crops.

The bee does not hibernate in the winter as generally supposed but collects pollen all of the year around.

The main holdback in beekeeping in Ulster county has apparently been the inability to keep the bees through the winters alive. This can be done, according to Mr. Rea, by keeping them in a temperature of about 57 all winter.

The question of American foul brood was discussed and the specialist stated that it was caused by bacteria, a small plant. This trouble can be eliminated by taking the bees from their hives and shaking them off of their combs and placing them in clean hives to breed again.

The Ulster county beekeepers present at the meeting and the number of colonies of bees owned and cared for by each are as follows: C. S. Rowe of Ulster Park, 10 colonies; George E. House of Ulster Park, 4; W. Zimmerman of Highland, 7; E. L. Mosier, 15; John Coutant of Milton, 10; John Herring of Ulster Park, 15; Walter R. Clarke of Milton, 10; Snyder Bee and Honey Company, represented by their manager, W. J. Whiston; Maurice H. Eisley of Woodstock, 2; Charles Herrick of Woodstock, 10; Harry Snyder of Cottekill, 6; Eugene Lasour of Highland; Frank Schreiber of Highland, 3; Peter Corcoran of Highland, 10; William Hamaker of Kingston, 20; Andrew P. Snyder of Hawkill, 81; Dr. J. R. Nelson of Kingston, 10; and A. C. Jenkins of Milton, 4.

Faint Praise.

Speaking of doubtful compliments, a subscriber writes: "I wish to offer the following as one of the best examples I have ever seen. An accomplished musician was invited by a friend to a church service in order to hear the chorus choir render a special selection. The friend, highly pleased with the rendition, was awaiting with much interest her companion's verdict. It came thus, in a whisper: 'They all well.'"—From the Outlook.

CUPID'S MESSAGE ON GRAPE BASKET LID

Wedding at Ulster Park on Wednesday Culmination of Romance Begun by Address Written on Basket Cover and Found in Taunton, Mass., Six Years Ago.

The days of romance have not entirely passed. Fishing the cover of a grape basket out of the bottom of a wood box and finding a girl's name and address written on it nine months before, in the region of Cape Cod, Mass., in 1913, would not necessarily point to an Ulster county wedding in 1919. But it did, and that fact is stranger than fiction.

Ruth Juliet Schultz, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schultz of Ulster Park, in the fall of 1912 wrote her name and address on the bottom of a cover of a grape basket, as she was packing grapes. June 30 of the next year Norman Everett Gaston of Taunton, Mass., a die cutter in the silver factory of Reed & Barton, happened to see it, and just for fun wrote a note to the girl. For three years letters passed between them. Then on an auto trip Mr. Gaston called for a few moments at the Schultz home and they met for the first time. The next year he met her in Boston. They met occasionally afterward and in March, 1918, they became engaged.

July 22 of the same year Mr. Gaston entered a Machine Gun Squad at Camp Devens. For weeks they were ready to go to France and the day positively set for Nov. 12. Then came the armistice. He was discharged Jan. 28, 1919, and—well, this is the sequel:

MARRIED—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schultz, February 5th, 1919, at 11 a. m., by Rev. P. N. Chase Ph.D., of Kingston, Ruth Juliet Schultz and Norman Everett Gaston of Taunton, Mass.

The bride and groom took the afternoon train for New York city. After their return they will live for a time with the parents of the bride.

EXTRA LONG WEAR FROM SHOES

T. D. Collins of Ookala, Hawaii, makes a remarkable statement which demonstrates the money-saving durability of Neōlin Soles.

He writes, "After wearing a pair of Neōlin-soled shoes off and on for thirty-three months, I wore them on a trip to the volcano of Kilauea and walked around the crater over hot lava six times and still the soles showed only slight signs of wear."

This experience is not accidental. It results from the scientific process by which Neōlin Soles are made to be exactly what soles should be—comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly economical because of the long wear they give.

Get them on new shoes for all members of the family and have them put on worn shoes. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 6.—Nearly all the speculative interest in the trading at the opening of the stock market today was attached to the copper group with these stocks in supply at concessions. American Smelting sustained a further loss of 1 point, carrying it down to 62⅞ and Utah Copper yielded a point to 67½. Kennecott sold down ⅜ to 31⅝. The rest of the list was irregular, some stocks showing strength with General Motors on inside buying advancing ⅞ to 132¾, and Pan-American Petroleum rose ⅞ to 69¼. Mexican Petroleum made a gain of 1⅛ to 169. Tobacco Products gained ½ to 79⅜. United States Steel gained ⅛ at 90½, and Marine Preferred was unchanged at 97.

The market closed unsettled: government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds heavy.

Evangelist McKay is a forceful speaker and he is delivering addresses direct from the shoulder to his audiences. The meetings will continue in the Clinton Avenue Church every one should avail themselves of an opportunity of hearing this course of sermons by Mr. McKay.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, Feb 6.—Daughters of America held a very interesting meeting Wednesday evening. They met to counsel together and adopt such measures as seem best calculated to advance the interest of this patriotic order. They balloted on three candidates, received three more applications, and we were informed they are increasing their members, and some may think there is nothing to do but look pleasant and wear your good clothes, but there is the mistake. There is work to do, good cheer and good fellowship to be given, and the next meeting will be initiation, so all members come out and do your duty.

Rev. F. M. Turrentine left here Monday morning for Boston, where his headquarters will be while he is laboring in the interest of church work. He expects to be absent till about conference time.

The engagement of Miss Mamie Davis and George Wood has been announced. We have not heard as yet when the matrimonial knot will be tied.

Queen Esther Circle was most pleasantly entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. George Cornell at her home on Maple avenue. There was a splendid attendance and the time for dealing with the business problems was quite lengthy. These people realize the arduous task placed before them for work and they proceed strenuously to accomplish their duty. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," so at their meetings, at the completion of labor, they indulge in games of different sorts for their pastime. The hostess served all with delicious refreshments and everyone pronounced them first class and later they left for their homes, wishing good luck to the Cornells.

Clarence Smedes has been enjoying a respite from the store of Charles Whittaker for a short time. He has been out of town and had a very pleasant time while away.

George Brown of Vineyard avenue has recently been in New York, spending a short time very delightfully with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leonard, daughter and son-in-law.

Mrs. F. L. Vail recently entertained for dinner relatives from Poughkeepsie at her home here. She spends a great portion of her time in Poughkeepsie with the Lewis H. Vail family, her husband's people.

Mrs. Grace Auchmoody of Poughkeepsie was a visitor the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitmore, of this place.

Mr. Gans and daughter, Miss Anna, acted the part of host and hostess to a number of friends last Friday evening at their home on Vineyard avenue. Cards were played and a very delightful evening was spent and later very delicious refreshments were served which all enjoyed, and the social time following was one long to be remembered by every one present.

Mrs. M. C. Dietz and daughters were recent guests of relatives in Milton.

Remember that on Saturday, Feb. 8, at 2 o'clock you can go to the Dr. Reed building and purchase some good things to eat and have the satisfaction of knowing you are helping on a worthy cause, and anyone can be served with refreshments at that time also. These sales are under the auspices of the Episcopal Guild of this place and should be heartily patronized, for they need funds to run the church and people, irrespective of denomination, should show willingness to assist, and all know one good turn deserves another. Get out and show you are not bigoted.

A large number of the official board members of the First M. E. Church were most delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Feeter Monday evening at their home, corner of Vineyard and Milton avenues. The business meeting occupied quite some time. The occasion was very enjoyable and was made profitable by promoting acquaintance and imparting fresh and mutual inspiration by indulging in heart to heart interest of the church. These meetings are very important factors in the church and the social side was brought out particularly when the hostess served the members with a delicious variety of good things to eat just before they departed for their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coutant of Poughkeepsie were week end guests of relatives in this place.

The Rev. Foster A. Coons of the M. E. church was ill last Sunday and unable to attend to his clerical duties. The Rev. F. M. Turrentine, a former pastor, preached both morning and evening, and his sermons furnished food for reflection. In the evening, Edgar Davis, one of our boys, gave a short talk on some experiences in camp, and the radio system of giving and receiving messages from steamers at sea. His talk was interesting.

Mrs. Henry Hovet of New York city came up to this place Monday and returned Tuesday. She was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Eyett of Maple avenue.

Mrs. Julia C. Dederick is in New York city visiting her relatives and friends and expects to remain for some time. She is not feeling at all well and thinks it better to remain in the city until warmer weather. Her friends here are sorry to have her away and will miss her for the social affairs. Hope she will soon come back.

Mrs. Katherine Relyea of New Paltz was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Scott of Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eckert had callers from Poughkeepsie on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Crum of Poughkeepsie were in town Sunday calling on Captain and Mrs. R. H. Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Terpening.

Mrs. J. S. Mack of "Hilair" had several Vassar College ladies for the week end. They enjoy the genial hospitality of Mrs. Mack and Mrs. Seymour.

Among the sick we are glad to report that Mrs. Isaac Hammond, Mrs. William Feeter, Sr., Theron DuBois, Mrs. Turrentine Sr., and Mrs. Mary Miller, mother of Mrs. Edward Dimsey are all so they can get around the house.

The Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Coons had as their guests for the week end the sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Van Amburgh, who reside at Pine Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Plass entertained several guests for the week end from Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. H. E. Wilcox has been confined to her home for a week with a severe cold. At this writing, glad to report, she is recovering slowly, which is good news.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith have returned home from Vassar Hospital, where both have been ill. Glad to have them back home again.

Annual Quilting.

The Sewing Guild of the Women's Missionary Society of the Fair Street Reformed Church will hold their annual quilting in the Sunday school room on Friday, beginning at 10 a. m. Luncheon will be served at noon to the workers, their families and friends. As the Guild has had so much to be thankful for and the needs are so great, it is hoped the thank offering, which is received at this time, may be a very generous one. There will be a business session at 4 o'clock.

GOV. SMITH URGES ALL TO BUY W. S. STAMPS

Governor Smith has just issued a proclamation as an official impetus to the furtherance of the 1919 War Savings Stamp campaign inaugurated on Benjamin Franklin's birthday, January 17. The proclamation is a ringing appeal for patriotic stamp purchase within the borders of New York state and sets forth concisely and convincingly the reasons for state-wide support of the Federal Government's post-bellum necessities. The text of the proclamation reads:

STATE OF NEW YORK

Executive Chamber

Whereas, The obligations of the Federal government incidental to the great war in Europe have made it expedient to launch a new issue of War Savings Stamps as an aid to the prompt and honorable fulfillment of the national promises, and,

Whereas, a costly duty still confronts the government of bringing back to home and kindred, hundreds of thousands of American soldiers now in France, as well as caring for the troops the government may temporarily leave abroad, and,

Whereas, The expense incidental to the readjustment of the domestic affairs of our Nation will be very great, requiring patient sacrifices on the part of the people.

Therefore, I, have deemed it wise to appeal to our countrymen within the boundaries of the State of New York to purchase the War Savings Stamps of this new issue to the consistent limit of their resources. These tokens of National obligation have been designated the Benjamin Franklin issue, because of the peculiar appropriateness of associating their purchase with the prudent principle of thrift enunciated by that great American whose 213th birthday has been recently celebrated.

I enjoin upon all citizens and residents of this Commonwealth to follow the precepts of the great Franklin, the apostle of sensible spending and to usefully and liberally render individual and particular aid at a time when called for by the Nation.

Given under my hand and privy seal of the state at the capitol in the city of Albany this twenty-fifth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

ACCORD CREAMERY MAY BE RESULT

Of Recent Milk Strike—Dairymen's Co-operation and Victory Celebrated at Kerhonkson.

The local branch of the Dairymen's League, having come successfully through the milk strike, celebrated the victory by having an oyster dinner on the evening of January 30th at Kerhonkson. Owing to the fact that the local creamery had just changed hands and neither the old nor the new owner wished to take on milk, the situation here was somewhat more complicated than at most of the shipping points. After the strike was called here, no milk whatever was shipped and the farmers disposed of their supply as best they could, some of the local dairymen were making as high as eight cans of milk a day and an economical disposal of this milk on such a short strike notice was somewhat of a task, but the farmers turned in and helped each other and wherever there was a separator, it did service for three or four farms. Right here was learned a good lesson in co-operation. Another great co operative help came when the Ellenville co-operative creamery, stepping in with its assistance, disposed of our milk either as liquid or by making it into butter and cheese. On every hand there seemed to be a disposition not only to stick together and win the fight but to help each other at every possible turn throughout the strike. There was a great deal of talk of building a farmers' co-operative creamery at Accord which would care for the milk of the three communities of Stone Ridge, Accord and Kerhonkson and this idea seemed so good that a committee from each place has been appointed and they are now awaiting the report of an expert from the league who will give them the benefit of his expert opinion of the whole situation. In this respect it has been pointed out that there was money enough lost by the farmers of this section during the strike to pay the interest of the investment in the creamery for at least three or four years. Even if the creamery was built and not used only on such an occasion as has lately arisen, it would still be a good financial investment for the farmers of this locality.

To complicate matters here, even after the strike was called off, neither the old firm nor the new one would receive milk, each stating that the other was the proper one to open the creamery. The local branch then called on the central office of the league for help which was promptly given and the best information we can get is to the effect that the league notified them both that unless they settled their differences and took in milk at this station immediately, they would get none at any of their other creameries. This brought them to terms and the local strike was called off on Monday, January 27th. So in celebration of this happy end of the strike, the dinner was held. The local farmers seem to appreciate that they have taken part in one of the greatest battles fought out by and on behalf of the dairy farmers of this county and they won. The committee in charge of the dinner certainly demonstrated their fitness for the job and so well was the affair conducted that it promises to be an annual event in memory of the strike. After the dinner Chester Young, whose help through the Ellenville creamery was so much appreciated, gave a short history of the strike in its broader aspects and Mr Cochrane spoke of the work of the Ulster County Farm Bureau. The farmers have learned that it is not only best financially to stick together, but socially as well and the total benefits received from the strike have not yet been realized.

ELECTRICITY IN THE HOME.

Modern Conveniences Especially For Rural Dwellers.

The home should be more than just a place to eat and sleep, more than just a shelter. It should be a fit place for the inspiration of the highest ideals that are possible to mankind. Modern invention has assisted greatly in the development of this idea. One of the greatest steps taken is that one which makes it possible to have electricity, with its electric service, lights and power, out in the country, on the farms and in the remote country places that have had to get along heretofore without the modern conveniences that have marked the difference between homes in the country and those in the city. The farmer, no difference where his place is located, can put in his own small electric plant and have electric lights equal in every way to those of the town or city. This electricity will run a motor to pump his water and store it under pressure. It can be piped to the kitchen sink, and to an indoor toilet and bathroom. To the women and the children in the farm house these are features which have a tremendous appeal and a tremendous value.

Running water at the barn may be provided from the same electric water system that serves the house, and every crank-operated machine about the place can be run with a motor and other jobs as well can be done better and more quickly with electricity.

FATHERS AND SONS

To Sit Down at Three Dinners on Feb. 14

All preparations are being made to make the three father and son dinners on Friday, February 14th, a most successful occasion. The up-town churches will meet at the First Dutch Reformed Church for their celebration. The following churches will be in that section: First Dutch, Second Dutch, St. James, St. John's Episcopal and Clinton Avenue M. E. The toastmaster of this group will be J. M. Fowler. The chairman of the up-town section is John R. Millard. He has the following men working with him in the several churches of that section and these men have the tickets: J. Kearney, St. James's M. E.; Becker, First Dutch; William Cornell, Second Dutch; Philetus Johnson, Clinton Avenue M. E.; William C. DeWitt, St. John's Episcopal. Tickets can be secured of these men for this section.

The churches of the central section will meet at the Y. M. C. A. to hold their dinner, the churches participating being the First Presbyterian, Albany Avenue Baptist, Church of the Comforter and Holy Cross. Prof. C. W. Lewis, principal of the high school, will act as toastmaster. P. H. Carey is chairman of this section and has the following men to sell the tickets in their respective churches: J. G. Brown, Albany Avenue Baptist; W. H. Niles, First Presbyterian; F. Koch, Holy Cross; S. P. Hines, Y. M. C. A. Mr. Carey has the tickets for the Church of the Comforter.

The dinner down town will be held in the Rondout Presbyterian Church. This section is under the direction of Dwight McEntee. S. M. Waite will be toastmaster. The churches participating and the men having tickets for the down town section are: W. P. Crane, Rondout Presbyterian; Dwight McEntee, Wurts Street Baptist; George Groves, Holy Spirit; Sam Watts, Trinity M. E.; F. J. Walters, English Lutheran; David Gill, Ponckhockie Church.

The tickets are in the form of a double one, one half admitting father and the other half the son. The full ticket admitting two sells for $1.00. No man will be admitted to any of the dinners without a boy and no boy will be admitted without a man. The men who have no boys and who wish to go can secure a boy from their church who might not otherwise go. It is hoped all tickets will be secured before Friday, the 14th so that those in charge will know how many to prepare for, and thus avoid a lack of food or overcrowding. Only a limited number of tickets can be purchased as the seating capacity of each place is limited.

Generally Has That Idea.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Feb. 6.—The Adult Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday school held their regular monthly business and social meeting in the chapel Tuesday evening. The members and their families were invited and a "pot luck" dinner was enjoyed. The tables were bountifully supplied with home made goodies and 40 sat down to enjoy the repast, after which the business meeting was held, Mrs. E. Bishop, the president, presiding. Mrs E A Bookhout sang Dr Henry Van Dyke's Home Coming Song, and interesting games were enjoyed by all, and the amusing stunts by the men will long be remembered by the men and the spectators. Who says an Adult Bible Class never has any fun? Just join this one and see. We regret that several members were absent because of illness. The class combines both faith and service. The beautiful Bible presented by the class last Sunday evening is a testimony of their devotion and alertness to the needs of the church and will long be appreciated by pastors and people.

We all know that without the schools our community will sooon be a backward instead of a progressive village. How much we owe to the school and how slight is our compensation for the work that is done. Here is the plan of the P. E. P. S. This can be done only by providing funds with which to work, and will you help by attending our dance at the Pythian Hall, Tuesday evening, February 18 1919? Curt Shurter's orchestra.
